“ Steve and Family,
We are deeply sorry for your loss.
Aunt Betty was always so sweet. Every moment spent with her was a joy. Will always miss the times spent with her, Uncle Gip and Beulah on her back porch during the Regatta days.
Keeping each of you in our thoughts and prayers.
Love,
Chris and Debbie

“ My deepest condolences to you are yours. I didn't have the pleasure of knowing Mrs. Cooley. But based on the obituary, she apparently gave allot of her love to her family. Family is so important to me. As I'm sure it is important to you all. My name is Timojin. Most people just call me TJ. And my main purpose for reaching out to you kind people, is because I myself have lost loved ones myself. And it hasn't been easy trying to heal. You really never recover from losing someone that you've shared many memories with. But did you know that God hasn't forgotten about our passed loved ones? He sure hasn't. As a matter of fact, in the bible his son Jesus Christ said that there will be a resurrection. Well we know what resurrection means. With that said the scripture goes on to say that they will hear the voice of Gods son and awaken. Take a look at this comforting scripture at John 5:28, 29 and answer this wonderful question. If you could get another chance to see your loved ones in perfect health, under perfect conditions, would you do whatever your told by god to see them?
