

Naomi (Fox) Sankey

June 26, 1935 - March 17, 2016

Naomi (Fox) Sankey, 80, passed away Thursday, March 17, 2016 at Shepherd of the Valley Nursing Center in Warren, Ohio, with her loving sister at her side.

She was born in Mt. Morris, PA, a daughter of the late Walter "Tony" and Wilma (Haines) Fox.

After graduating in 1954 from Mount Morris High School where she was a cheerleader, Naomi moved to Ohio for employment. She was a faithful member of the First Baptist Church in Warren, a mission quilter of the church, volunteered at Bible School and Pre-school for the children, and also was a "Clown for Christ" performer. She enjoyed making quilts and crafts, working in her flower gardens, and especially, spending time with her sister, going on trips together and camping at the Mathews Compound at Big Bear in West Virginia.

Surviving is her husband of 60 years, Floyd Sankey; two sons Martin and Rodney (Jennifer) Sankey; ten grandchildren; a great granddaughter; and her only sister, Marlene (Herschel) Mathews of Dilliner.

Deceased are two sons, Timothy and Jeffery, and her brother Duane Fox.

Funeral Services and burial for Naomi were held in Warren.
