“ Mom, where do I begin. I miss you dearly, my heart is shattered into tiny pieces. It hurts to breathe sometimes. I miss our daily talks 10 times a day and our goodnight calls. I want to pick the phone up million times a day, to tell you something, ask you something, and to just hear your voice. I want to thank you for being a wonderful mother and grandmother, your love, compassion, generosity, you were an amazing woman. I'm so proud of what a strong, courteous , independent woman you were. I will cherish my memories of our times together. You were such a hard worker and you were a fighter, you fought so hard. Thank you for the love, support, friendship. I'm lost and numb since you left. But I am so thankful you aren't suffering anyone. Now you can rest. Thank you for being such a wonderful grandmother. Emily and Carrigan were so lucky to have you as theirs, the love, memories made and the admiration they had for you. Carrigan is strong willed like you. She is suffering, but she knew the love you had for her was never ending. The relationship between you both was truly amazing. Thank you for your wisdom and sense of humor. Bob, Chris, Eric and I will eventually be OK. We knew you loved us as we loved you. We have each other to lean on, and we will be there for each other, And now we will need that more than ever. Thank you for all the laughs, and always being there. I'm so proud of the woman you were. I love and miss you so very much. You were truly a beautiful soul. And we are blessed to have been your family. I love you mom. Love, Kim
