“ Your mom and I were good friends in school and my husband grew up with your dad. We had some good times going to dances at fire halls, American Legions and other places. The more vodka we drank, the better Rose and I danced. My husband helped your dad build the addition onto your family home. It wasn't entirely square when they were finished but they had a good time drinking beer and building it when they had no idea what they were doing. We lost touch over the years. I'm so sorry for your loss. She was a good person and friend. Linda (Wilson) and Larry Wolfe.

“ So many times Dawnet and I would make her parents laugh. Some of the crazy things we did. Rose was a good lady, she worked hard to help take care of her family. She and Donny raised two great daughters.
Fly high Rose, your bed ridden days are over. Dawnet will always have a friend in me.
